SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Each day a new sign of spring becomes apparent. In the sheltered spots green blades of grass are springing up, buds on the more hardy plants are forming and birds are whistling their cheery melodies as they flit here and there through the warm sunshine. The snow, that so recently was piled several feet deep, is diminishing swiftly and on the warm hillsides it has entirely disappeared.

And with the advent of spring comes our old problem—that of solving the debris question. Last fall the chamber of commerce had a committee appointed to investigate the possibilities of having Commercial Row, at least, policed regularily. Trash, papers and even empty bottles, which have been buried under the snow this past winter are once more very much in evidence, offering an unsightly appearance for our tourist friends as well as the townspeople. It seems too bad that with such a swell little town that something can't be done to eliminate this eyesore. We sincerely hope the chamber of commerce committee can offer a solution.

With the passing this week of Jack Calanan, Truckee lost one of its most widely known and respected characters. Friends are going to miss his pleasant greeting and ready smile as they pass down the main street.

The Southern Pacific Company, in installing a series of flood lights along the tracks below the depot filled a long felt need. Heretofore, in boarding or alighting from trains, passengers have been forced to make their way along the tracks in semi-darkness, but the new lights provide safe and convenient passage. Just another indication of the company's desire to keep pace with progress.

The housing situation is becoming more and more acute in Truckee. Seldom a day passes that one or more inquiries are not made at the Sierra Sun office for homes or apartments. There are evidently few vacancies. What we need here is a good building boom.

"Credit is a sacred trust." We read this recently on an application for credit form and the thought struck us that it's too bad more people fail to recognize the truth therein.

In just a month from today the trout fishing season will open on the Truckee river. Last week we suggested a trout derby to bring bigger and better fishermen to Truckee, but from the dirth of comment aroused by the suggestion, it evidently didn't click.

Speaking of fish, incidentally one subject which we like very much, the fish and game commission reports that from all indications this year will be a banner one for the nimrods as more trout and better conditions are prevalent. When the fishing is good elsewhere, it fine on the Truckee.

TROUT PROSPECTS FOR COMING MAY BE BEST IN YEARS

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—(UP)—Reports of game wardens from 55 California counties indicated today that it is a safe two-to-one bet that the state's 223,000 angles will have better luck with bait than with flies when trout season opens May 1.

Field reports to the state fish and game commission here also indicated that although high water may hamper early efforts, the season generally will be one of the best in recent years.

Winter rains have kept most rivers and streams high and muddy, while a majority of commission reports forecast high water from melting snowpacks around season-opening time.

Almost without exception, northeastern counties and those ranging into the Sierras reported their mountain lakes frozen over. In other counties, mountain lakes were rising high, with indications the rises would continue well into the summer.

MATTOS MOVING TO NEW LOCATION

HEART ATTACK FATAL

Resided In Truckee More Than 30 Years; Was Widely Known

Funeral services, under the auspices of Milo Lodge No. 48, Knights of Pythias, at Nevada City, were held this afternoon for Humphrey (Jack) Calanan, 75, widely known Truckee resident. who died in his home here Sunday night or Monday.

Missed by friends, who had not seen him around town Monday, a search was made and a light was discovered burning in his room. As no reply was forthcoming from repeated knocks, Nightwatchman Frank Titus was summoned and the door forced open. Calanan's body was found inside. He apparently was the victim of a heart attack.

A native of Cherokee, near San Juan, Calanan spent his early life in that locality, coming to Truckee about 30 years ago. For the past 20 years he had been employed at part time work by Dan D. Smith at the Rex hotel.

Two sisters, Mrs. Phillip Solare of North San Juan and Mrs. James Northcott of Gridley and a nephew, George H. Calanan of Nevada City are the only known survivors.

Interment will be in the family plot at Cherokee, beside the graves of his mother and father.

PRECIPITATION FOR YEAR OVER NORMAL AS STORMS ENDED

Replacing an almost daily diet of snow, Easter Sunday turned out to be one of the most pleasant days of the early spring, a warm sun and cloudless sky making it possible for the fairer sex to exhibit Easter finery advantageously.

Thursday morning the clear weather ended when a heavy rainfall was recorded. Forecast was for continued showers tonight and Friday at least.

Hobart Snider of the forest service reported that the total precipitation for March was 2.35 inches, the normal is 4.15 inches and although this is the case, the precipitation is 3.08 above normal since September 1, with a total of 23.82 inches recorded since that time.

ADOPTS RESOLUTION

Asks Lawmakers to Repeal Law Calling For Tax In Restaurants

A resolution directed to State Senator Jerrold Seawell and Assemblyman Jesse Mayo, urging the lawmakers to take steps to repeal the present sales tax on foods served in restaurants and hotels, was passed by the Truckee Chamber of Commerce at the meeting held this week at Besio's restaurant.

The action of the local civic body followed a similar move by the Lake Tahoe-Sierra Association.

It is proposed that the representatives support any current bill seeking the repeal of the tax and that if none exists to introduce such a measure.

The meeting was featured by a discussion relative to a road beautification program for 1939 when many thousands of tourists are expected to pass through Truckee en route to the San Francisco exposition. It was pointed out that the first impressions of the state would be received here and the chamber is anxious to cooperate with the state highway division in a program of beautifying the highway.

MISS COSTA MARRIED TO THOMAS ROGERS IN RENO CEREMONY

Miss Ida Costa of Truckee became the bride of Thomas Rogers of Newcastle at a ceremony performed in the Catholic Church at Reno on Saturday, March 27, in the presence of relatives and close friends.

Local Group Is Honored At Meet Of Association

Awards Given P. T. A. For Activities During Past Year

The Truckee Union of the Parents and Teachers' association received recognition at the final meeting of the Third District, which was held in the Congregational Church in Sacramento on March 24, when the local unit was given standard and program awards and Mrs. Scott E. Gordon was appointed chairman of the California and National Parent-Teachers' magazines.

The local president stated that much credit for the awards is due to the outgoing executive board members, who have worked willingly and conscientiously to bring the rating of the local organization to such a high standard, enabling it to take its place among other active associations of the state.

"It must be remembered," Mrs. Gordon said, "that any organization is only as good as the members make it; so let us all earnestly endeavor to keep our standard rating; let us try always to work conscientiously and happily for a cause so worthy for surely there is nothing closer to us than the welfare of children which is the primary objective of Parent-Teacher work."

Lions To Change Date Of Meeting; Plan Visitation

Meetings Will Be Held On Tuesday as Other Dates Filled

Decision to change the weekly meeting date from Wednesday to Tuesday evening and plans for attending "Truckee Night" at Prusso's Forest Inn at Lake Tahoe on April 10, featured Wednesday night's session of the Truckee Lions Club.

At a meeting of the board of directors, immediately following the dinner meeting, it was unanimously voted to hold the meeting on Tuesday as counter attractions on Wednesday make it difficult for all the members to be present.

The club members, 14 of whom have already signified their intention of attending, will go to Prusso's in a group accompanied by their wives, thus not only observing "Truckee Night" at the lake resort but holding the postponed Ladies Night of the club at the same time. Lions A. M. Henry and C. Edmunds were named to make arrangements for the meet. President Rufus Gregory was in charge of the busy, largely attended session last night.

AGREEMENT ON DAM WORK IS ONLY TEMPORARY

Nevada to Supply 75 Per Cent as County to Have Balance

AWAIT OFFICIAL WORD

Work Starting This Week as Power Lines Built To Project

A temporary agreement has been reached between the Nevada employment service under which 75 per cent of the labor on the Boca dam in Nevada county will be employed from Reno and the Grass Valley NRA office which will furnish 25 per cent of the labor. The agreement was made pending word from the national capitol as to the outcome of the companion measure to Senator Key Pittman's bill, which passed the senate.

The twin bill has been introduced in the house by Congressman J. G. Scrugham and would enable Nevada labor to be used exclusively although under federal regulations, employment lists must be prepared at the "county or political subdivision," in which the project is located. The construction of the dam is financed by Nevada money, although the natural resources of this county are effected materially.

Actual work is expected to begin this week as power lines have already been installed to the site and necessary equipment is being moved in.

UTILITY PROPERTY REPORTED TO BE IN FINE CONDITION

In a report to the directors of the Truckee Public Utility District this week, Manager C. Edmunds pointed out the splendid manner in which the plant of the district had come through the past winter's storms, which are conceded to have been the worst in many years.

Aside from failures from the district's source of supply, over which the district has no control, the report stated, there had been but one failure during the entire winter, that effected more than one customer and that was due to a blown transformer fuse caused by a short circuit from a snow slide off the roof of a house.

There were only two other failures effecting the service of single customers, both of which were caused by snow sliding off the roofs of the houses.

The district takes every precaution, Edmunds reported, to endeavor to place its wires where they will be least liable to trouble of this nature and each year spends considerable rerouting its lead-in wires, which in most cases is due to change or rearrangements in the buildings by the owners.

It was also reported that in common with the practice of all publicly owned electric systems throughout the country not to wait for depreciation to bring about failure of a line of poles or a major part of the system, the district spends several hundred dollars each year in permanent line and service repairs and reconstruction, so that aside from the natural decay of the wooden poles the plant now is in as good condition almost as the day it was built. In addition, a depreciation fund is being built up to take care of emergency replacements as they may be needed.

GREGORY ATTENDS ASSOCIATED MEET

R. L. Gregory, Truckee manager for the Associated Oil Company last week attended a meeting of dealers and representatives of the company in Sacramento. Discussion of future sales plans, in which personal service to the individual customer, will be stressed, featured the meeting.

A GIVE AND TAKE PROPOSITION

It is a pretty well founded fact that you can get out of a town or community just about what you put into it. This town is no exception. So far as we have been able to find there are no exceptions.

Unless you have the better interests of the community at heart, unless you are sincere in your boosting and don't knock and unless you go beyond your own business and home to assist a worthy community program, you cannot rightfully expect the town to go very far out of its way to help you.

Putting something into a town, under our interpretation, doesn't necessarily mean expenditure of money or labor. It doesn't mean that you should neglect your own home or business to foster and promote community projects. But it does mean simply an appreciation of the things the community is doing to make this a better town in which to live and enjoy life and a desire on your part to reciprocate.

Truckee, like thousands of other small centers, is loath to boost its own stock. That is primarily the reason that small towns remain small.

It is true that a community develops only as far as the efforts of its citizens extend.

If, for even a short time, we could all get together, toss our hammers into the river and, regardless of personal feelings, work toward a common cause, a worthy cause, there is nothing that could stop us from becoming one of the best little cities in the west.

AN INEXCUSABLE CRIME

Newspapers last week carried the story of the ruthless, unnecessary slaying of Claude McCracken, editor of a little paper up in Modoc County. The admitted slayer is the son of the editor of an opposition paper. The cause, or the only cause thus far disclosed, was a hatred growing out of a few semi-humorous comments McCracken had written in his paper about his opposition.

Those who knew McCracken knew him as a jovial, good-natured man, without any apparent thought or desire to seriously harm anyone. His untimely death is regretted by his hundreds of friends and associates.

For the slayer we have the utmost contempt. Regardless of the fancied wrongs which he felt had been done him, he had no excuse for the inhuman, brutish manner in which he retaliated. The fact that he may have been intoxicated was even less an excuse. Claude McCracken had as much right to live as the man who ended his life.

If the death penalty was ever deserved, we feel that here is an example where it should be applied. Such acts should not be tolerated, regardless of the sympathy which is extend ed to members of his family.

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW

How time flies. It's hard to realize that next year will be another election year. Already, we suppose, candidates are being groomed for the fights; acquaintances are being greeted as old friends; thoughtful mothers are teaching their babies to turn their faces away from smiling gentlemen and the tracks are being cleared for the contests.

Down in Sacramento almost every move is being made with an obvious thought for the election. Democrats and republicans alike are currying favor, building up organizations and vote persuading machines for 1938.

We imagine that some of the lads and lassies over in our own county seat are beginning to dust up on the best ways to be a candidate or how to hold a public job.

All in all, it should be an interesting game next year and we anticipate a lot of fun watching it.

THE BREAKING UP OF A SWELL TOWN

It's actually sad to watch the "breaking up" of Hobart Mills. Each week sees one or two, and sometimes more, families departing to make their homes elsewhere. One by one the few remaining tasks in connection with the closing and demolition of the big saw mill and factory are being completed. In a few short weeks, few will remain in what very recently was one of the busiest little centers of industry in California.

Since coming to Truckee, we have met a large number of Hobart Mills residents and they are fine people, the kind of people a town needs. We are going to miss them and we again wish them all the success to which they are entitled in their new homes.

Politically Speaking

By GEORGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—(UP)—One of the biggest threatened fights of the legislative session may simmer down to a mild differnce of opinion—officially— as a result of Governor Frank F. Merriam's assertion that he will stand on his $446,000,000 budget as presented and democratic reports that plans to boost the document by several millions may be dropped.

Merriam took some of the wind out of the Bourbon sails when he said he would accept responsibility for the budget if it did not prove sufficient to meet all necessary expenses.

Before he said that, democrats had talked about sending the document to him as presented and let him take the blame if there wasn't enough money to operate all agencies of the government.

Merriam took the fun out of the maneuver.

He also removed the punch from any plan to boost the budget items by announcing he would not stand for any major increases.

All of this left the democrats in the predicament of knowing that if they tried to increase the budget, Merriam would slash the items he figured were unnecessary; if they apporved it as presented, that would please him very much.

"I'll be happy if they agree with with me," Merriam said.

He felt that the budget was his very own document, not to be altered materially by the legislature.

"Unless a mighty good reason is presented, I won't let the legislature interfer," he said.

This meant that requests for large increases in appropriationss for the University of California, state colleges, institutions, prisons and other governmental agencies would not be approved by the governor if they were placed in the budget.

There was a possibility, however, that he would sign special appropriation bills for new buildings such as those sought for the Yountville Veterans' Home if he believed the improvements were necessary.

"Surely God will not hear vanily, neither will the Almighty regard it." These words from Job comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, April 4, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of the Mother Church, the Firsta Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The ubject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Usreality."

"If they have special requests," Merriam aid, " let them handle them in special bills. Appropriations for new buildings or projects should not be made part of the budget. I'm convinced I've provided enough to meet the expenses of the government for the next two years, and except for a few minor adjustments, I shall not look with favor on any attempts to increase the budget."

The budget was threatened as committees held hearings on the scores of items. Almost without exception, tate department heads asked the committees to allow them more money than proposed by the administration.

Committee members were curious about that. Democrat leaders said Merriam had maneuvered to present a low budget, passing onto the legislature the responsibility of taking the blame for increases so he later could say he tried to be economical but that the legislature had thwarted his plans.

Meriram's attitude, however, upset some of the controversy.

"Naturally, we didn't permit all the increases asked," Merriam said. "Departments should operate like individuals. Most of us would like to have more than we have, but if we didn't have the funds we budget ourselves accordingly.

"Two years ago the legislature was strongly opposed to increasing exepnditures. I was with them in that repect. This year, the members seem to have a leberal attitiude on the subject. But I'm standing on my desire to hold the budget within the limits I set. If we had approved all the increases asked, the total amount would have been some $12,000,000 higher than it is."

At that the budget is the highest in history—$446,000,000 for state expenditures and $58,000,000 for federal government allocations, or a total of $504,000,000 for the 1937-39 biennium to finance expenses of heavy subventions to counties neces-

Tahoe . . . . Ramblings . . .

(By SWANEE)

Mrs. Jewel Bechdolt on Easter Sunday was sponsor of a novel egg hunting expedition which the youngsters attended on skiis, nests being hidden in the snow instead of the usual green grass, none of which is visible at Tahoe. Immense esjoyment was evidenced.

Little Billie Bechdolt accompanied his father to Auburn Saturday where physicians removed the plaster cast from the leg which was broken more than six weeks ago. Pronounced in excellent condition he must still use a crutch for a time.

Sigmund Ruud, world champion ski jumper from Norway, was a visitor in Tahoe on Tuesday where he was a guest at the Tahoe Inn. He left with friends for Seattle, planning to return in two weeks.

Mr .and Mrs. Henry Worden and children returned on Friday from a vacation spent in the bay cities.

Henry Droste is the owner of a new Ford sedan, purchased from the John Thornton agency in Truckee.

Chris Nielsen who returned to Tahoe a week ago, plans to leave again this week for Auburn, accompanied by Mrs. Gertrude Broach. He will supervise improvements on his newly purchased duplex. Mrs. Broach will visit friends and shop.

The Nielsen's large Persian cat, Piggy, who made feline history when his picture and story of a proposed trip to Sweden to visit his mistress appeared in the papers, is no more. After being taken to Auburn to the home of Mrs. Hulda Nielsen, the cat became ill and was hurried to a Loomis veterinarian. Treatment extended over several days, but the cat died.

The newlyweds will occupy an apartment in Emeryville.

TAHOE CITY, April 1.—Members of the H. and W. Philanthropic club held their regular weekly meeting on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 at the Meek's Bay clubhouse.

Twenty persons were in attendance, presided over by President Mrs. Cora Walker. During the business session Mrs. Pearl Heller, past president, requested that a record be compiled of all the charitable deeds performed by the club during her year in the chair. While only a year old, the club has acquired a large and enthusiastic membership, as well as a generous treasury which is used freely and impartially for relieving distress, not only among the needy Tahoe residents, but deserving out of the district families as well.

Considerable interest was evidenced in the coming "Parcel Post" party being planned for the middle of April. An experiment in this unique form of entertainment was tried last year for the first time by the club, its popularity proving successful.

Following the business meeting, members presented Miss Rosalee Heller many lovely gifts of linen and household articles, as well as bouquets of yellow jonquil. Mrs. Pearl Heller, hostess for the occasion, chose pink and blue for the attractive color shheme. Music, dancing and bingo succeeded the serving of refreshments. Mr. and Mr. Si Pierson and daughter, Blanche, arrived home Friday after having a vacation in the bay cities and Sacramento for several months.

Jimmie Swanson enjoyed the distinction of having his 10th birthday fall on Easter Sunday this year. A special dinner party and many lovely gifts marked the occasion.

Two enthusiastic visitors visited Tahoe shore on Friday. They were Harold Gunn of Salt Lake City and Joseph Alschausky, Jr., of Los Angeles, who were on their way to the southern city from Utah. They made a special trip to Tahoe to view the lake region and its publicized winter dress.

Due to the absence of the president, secretary and treasurer, the scheduled Friday meeting of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club was postponed until next Friday.

Mrs. Stella Watson left last Saturday for San Francisco where she spent Easter week with her daughter, Mildred.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wagner of Lake Forest on Thursday combined business with pleasure on a motor trip to Reno and Sparks.

PRUSSO WILL OPEN DINING ROOM AT LAKE SATURDAY

TAHOE CITY, April 1.- Local and out-of-town residents are welcoming the announcement made here this week by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Prusso that due to continuous requests they will open their attractive dining room at Prusso's Forest Inn on Ward Creek, to the public at an informal dinner party on April 3 at 7 p. m.

Many of the requests received came from Tahoe home owners in San Francisco and the bay region who would enjoy visiting the lake over week ends but do not wish to open their homes until later.

The same careful detailed attention to comfort and cleanliness, the same display of prompt, hospitable service and the same high standards of foods will be maintained this year as during the past season.

In charge of the ranges will be Chef Gino Martini, whose expert culinary accomplishments to arrange distinctive menues contributed to the popular patronage enjoyed by Forest Inn last year. He it was who made the four-word slogan "Food with a character," Prusso's by-word among the customers.

The same efficient staff of employes will also be on hand to render service.

Music will be furnished diners and special attention given dinner parties. Until after June 1, only lunch and dinner will be served daily, breakfasts by special arrangement only.

The cozy cocktail lounge will again be in charge of Mel Grodzik, mixologist, whose duty it is to dispense none but the best of domestic and imported liquors and wine.

Mr. and Mrs. Prusso, gracious hosts, assure a genial welcome to those who patronize the dining room where personally supervised service, comfortable, attractive surroundings and distinctive foods will meet the approval of the most discriminating.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Atherton and niece, Margaret Luhrs of Fallon are in town for a visit. While here they are having their home place in the Bettencourt Tract remodeled into two apartments, both of which are reported to be leased for the summer.

LEGISLATIVE SIDELIGHTS

(By United Press)

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—(UP)—The argument used by horse racing enthusiasts that the sport develops a love for horseflesh cannot apply to dog races, a representative of the W. C. T. U. insisted during a meeting of the assembly public morals committee.

"When dogs are running after mechanical rabbits," said Mrs. Louise Taft, San Francisco, state president of the W. C. T. U., "all you can see is their numbers."

Senators D. Jack Metzger and Bradford S. Crittenden have joined in a crusade to secure more rigid inspection — and, incidentally, more tender meat.

Appearing before a livestock and dairies committee to recite his troubles, Metzger said the tender steak problem in his county was a caution.

"Then, too," he continued, "Brad Crittenden bought what he thought was a tender roast for Christmas—had 10 or 12 people in for dinner and what do you think happened?

"The meat was so damn tough you couldn't stick a fork in the gravy!" he shouted.

Members of the assembly morals committee had a regular field day during discussion of a bill to oust women bartenders.

Some of the comment:

"It's safer to have 'em behind the bar than out in front serving."

"What's the difference between a bar tender and a mixologist? Is a bartender one who pours beer and a mixologist one who knows his business?"

"Where can you find these women bartenders? I've never seen one in my district."

"How about the wife of the proprietor—would she have to stay from behind the bar? If not, I suppose the bartender would have to marry the gal to keep her on the job."

No action was taken on the bill.

TAHOE PERSONALS

A total of 263 inches of snow has fallen at Tahoe to date this year, 46 inches on the ground at Tahoe City, greater depths prevailing in the outlying lakeshore districts. The lake level stands at 6224.70. Rain, hail during the past three days with a rising barometer on Saturday indicating clearing weather. Pussywillows are venturing out along the river, and snow has fallen spasmodically bluejays are heard occasionally in the tree tops and my large family of squirrels are again calling at my windowledge each night for their accustomed handout. Perhaps Spring is not far away after all.

An uncommonly large group of senate pages aroused the curiosity of Senator Charles H. Deuel, veteran senate heckler, who demanded they stand up and identify themselves.

All went well until a colored lad in the employ of Lt. Gov. George J. Hatfield misinterpreted the procedure and stood mute.

"What's you name, my boy?"

Senator Culbert L. Olson countered. "Maybe that's the Ethiopian gentleman Senator Swing said was in my oil bill."

Mrs. Norma Cavallo and sister, Miss Ida Stewart were Reno visitors Wednesday where Miss Steward went to have some dental work done.

Cecil Selburn, who is in charge of the Hobart Club rooms was a Carson visitor Saturday.

Advertising for Counties May be Authorized if Proposed Bill Passes

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—(UP)—All of California's counties may soon be provided with means of telling the world about their natural beauty and advantages.

A bill by Senator Frank Mixter would permit boards of supervisors to levy a tax up to four cents per $100 assessed valuation for advertising purposes. Already passed by the senate, it was recommended for passage by the assembly county government committee.

BILL WOULD INCREASE PAY FOR PRISON GUARDS

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—(UP)—Passage of bills requiring an eight-hour day for prison guards at San Quentin and Folsom would mean addition of 44 men and salary adjustments totaling $180,000, the senate committee was told.

Salary expenditures would cover proposed increases to men already working, wardens of the two institutions explained.

Warden Court Smith of San Quentin also requested a budget allotment of $300,000 to defray cost of a new industrial building there.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS LOSE MAJOR NUMBER OF LICENSES WITHDRAWN

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—(UP)—Drunken driving, which safety experts concede is one of the nation's gravest traffic menaces, caused approximately two-thirds of all California drivers' license cancellations, suspensions and revocations in 1936.

Paul Mason, cheif of the state division of drivers' licenses, department of motor vehicles, said 678 of a total of 1044 license withdrawols during the year were from persons guilty of drunken driving.

GAMBLING MAY BE BE DECIDED IN VOTE UNDER PROPOSAL

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—(UP)—California voters may be given a chance to vote on the question of legalizing all forms of gambling.

Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan announced he had received a letter from the National Liberty League, with headquarters at Omaha, Neb., requested information on the procedure necessary to put the proposal on the November, 1938, ballot. The plan to be submitted would provide that all revenue derived from gambling licenses go to the general funds of cities, counties, state and to partially pay for old age pensions. The annual return, it was estimated, would total approximately $25,000,000.

Jordan replied that it would take 186,378 signatures to place such a proposition on the general election sitated by the state acting as tax collector for the operation of school, roads and other functions in the counties and cities.

There were enough budget increase requests and proposed special appropriation measures introduced to puh the state expenditures the half million mark exclusive of federal grants.

Merriam said he would consider any special appropriation measures that reached him and indicated he would approve any which he considered were necessary. Total state expenditures for the next two years therefore, are likely to exceed $450,000,000.

Despite the heavy expenditures proposed, Merriam and other state officials figured revenue sources, if left alone, would return enough to balance the budget, wipe out a $20,000,000 deficit and create a surplus.

NEW ROAD PLAN
